

PICNIC DAY

WHAT is the fun of a Picnic if you can't drop the handkerchief behind the prettiest girl you know, and what is more fun than to have her chase you around the ring? Well, there is always the fun of trying to catch the Greased Pig. And, maybe, if you can win the prize she will let you buy her a lolly-pop or some ice cream. There is always the sack race, too, that all the other boys are trying to win. If you should win that, why, she would ride on the merry-go-round with you. Look at the new game this year at the Picnic. I wonder if you know how to jump on the POGO-STICK? Get in the game and see if you can win this race, too. Your pretty girl will let you take her home—maybe—if you do. With a brush and plain water paint carefully between the lines and see the colors appear.
